

Make a beeline for the Queen's Suite

Harrogate Christmas & Gift extends to seven separate halls of the Harrogate International Centre this year with the inclusion of the Queen's Suite for the very first time. This new hall provides the home to 21 exhibitors of which 13 are brand new companies attending the show, including Hometown World Ltd, Nutscene (1922) Ltd, Fountasia International and Westbury Garden Products. A firm favourite – Gardman Ltd (Stand QS20) – is also moving into the Queen's Suite this year – and with all this plus a new catering facility within makes it a firm point of interest for all visitors attending the show.

Tasteful textiles

One of the oldest – if not the oldest – linen manufacturing firms in this country is Walton & Co Limited, manufacturers of household lines which has works at Castle Mills, Knaresborough, Yorkshire. Today, Walton & Co is a leading wholesaler of textile and home furnishings sourced from Europe, India and the Far East for the European retail market. Its team of designers, who draw their inspiration from a variety of commercial influences, ensure its seasonal merchandise coordinates with the latest home fashions.

Colourful collection

Jonart Design is exhibiting its new and exclusive ranges of festive and celebratory decorations.

The Harlequinade Collection brings the colour and spectacle of Venetian revels, consists of medium and large multi-faceted shatter-proof baubles. The Princess Collection theme is the romantic stories of Swan Lake, and Disney's Frozen; combining the soft touch of snow with the brilliance of ice. The Romanov Collection, in hand-blown glass, echoes the famed bejewelled eggs and baubles of Imperial Russia.
